

The Qu'Appelle Progress.

Vol. XII.

QU'APPELLE STATION, N. W. T., THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1897.

No. 41

Mosquito Scare

FLY PADS.

STICKY FLY PAPER

INSECT POWDER

HENDERSON & PARKER

DRUGGISTS.

QU'APPELLE STATION, N. W. T.
Successors to J. A. Underwood & Co.

S. H. Caswell & Co.,

BANKERS,

Financial and Insurance Agents

COLLECTIONS SOLICITED—RETURNS PROMPTLY MADE.

Five Per Cent. Interest Allowed on Deposit Accounts.

CORRESPONDENTS:
MOLSON'S BANK, Winnipeg.
MERCHANTS BANK OF CANADA, Toronto.

Cheques and Drafts for all parts of the World Bought and Sold.

Qu'Appelle Station. - - A 33A.

CREAMER & GRAY,
DEALERS IN

American & Canadian

Wagons, Plows and Bicycles.

Carriages, Buckboards, Horse Rakes, Harrows, Twine, Barb Wire, Etc.

AGENTS FOR

McGormick's
BINDERS and MOWERS, SYLVESTER DRILLS.

Full stock of Repairs always on hand

Office and Warehouse:

Pacific Ave., one door east of Leland hotel,
QU'APPELLE STATION, ASSA.

Fresh Killed Meat

H. BRAY,

Wholesale and Retail

BUTCHER

QU'APPELLE STREET,

QU'APPELLE STATION.

DRESSED: PORK: AND: POULTRY
BOUGHT: AND: SOLD.

CUSTOM SOLICITED

Bachelor Buttons

—AT—

BAILEY'S

You don't need to use a shingle nail when your buttons come off. These are the handiest buttons in the world.

Oranges
Lemons,
Bananas,
Groceries.

Canned Goods, Tobaccos, etc. A fresh stock
AT MRS. AMBLER'S.

TO PERSONS

Desirous of obtaining

A Home Cheap

I will offer Special Bargains in the

S.E. 1/4 Sec. 6, Tp. 20, Rge 14

W. 1/4 " 6, " 18 " 14

W. 1/4 " 23, " 19, " 14

For the next few days.

MONEY TO LOAN

for purchasing land, etc.

Any person found cutting hay on Ontario & Qu'Appelle Lands will be out of luck for once.

J. DOOLITTLE, Agent

QU'APPELLE VALLEY

FLOUR - -
- - MILLS

(Established 1884).

FORT QU'APPELLE.

GRISTING

HUNGARIAN PATENT
STRONG BAKERS' FLOUR
GRAHAM

BRAN, SHORTS, CHOP, CRACKED WHEAT.

Chopper for Grinding Feed Stuff.

Full supply always on hand at BULYEA'S Store, Qu'Appelle Station.

Support Local Industry.

JOYNER & ELKINGTON, PROPRIETORS.

See

My New Stock of Harness
Whips, Saddles, Brushes,
Curry Combs, Trunks, Val-
ises, etc. Boots and Shoes, before buying elsewhere.

See me for Flour & Feed
also Coal Oil. Yours for Bargains, GEO. AMBLER

CITY MEAT MARKET

R. Johnston,
(Late Scott & Johnston.)

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Butcher.

HIGHEST MARKET PRICE PAID FOR CATTLE, SHEEP, HOGS, AND POULTRY.

Corned Beef, No. 1 Smoked Hams and Bacon, Dry Salt Bacon, Salt Fish.

Fresh B. C. Salmon
Every Friday.

LETTUCE, ONIONS, RHUBARB.

Main St., Qu'Appelle Station, Assa

T. COWAN.

Blacksmith and Carriage Maker

Horseshoeing and all Repairing done on shortest notice. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

QU'APPELLE STATION, ASSA.

A. HOLLINGSHEAD,

House, Sign and Carriage Painter.

Graining, Glazing, Paper Hanging
and Kalsomining

ALL WORK PROMPTLY EXECUTED.

QU'APPELLE STATION AND INDIAN HEAD.

BIRTHS

McCANNEL—At Qu'Appelle Station, on the 20th inst., the wife of D. S. McCannel, of a daughter.

BRINE & FETHERSTONHAUGH,
LIVERY STABLES
QU'APPELLE STATION AND FORT QU'APPELLE
Daily Stage Between Fort Qu'Appelle and Qu'Appelle Station.
First Class Horse and Harness, Careful Drivers
and Stage Boxes Qu'Appelle Station and Fort Qu'Appelle.

LEGAL.

A. D. DICKSON, Barrister, Advocate,
Solicitor, etc.
Office, first door west of the Queen's Hotel,
Qu'Appelle St.

MEDICAL.

D. B. K. CAUTHEN, Qu'Appelle, Physician, Surgeon, Coroner, Etc., Graduate Toronto University and Licensate College Physicians and Surgeons, Ont.

W. HENDERSON, M.D.C.M.,
Graduate of McGill University,
Licentiate of College of Physicians and Surgeons, N. W. T. Office near the drug store.

J. B. ROBINSON,

Contractor & Builder

Estimates given and all work promptly attended to.

Wanted.

Men and women who can work hard talking and writing six hours daily, for six days
a week, and will be content with ten dollars
weekly. Address:
NEW LOGAN CO., Brantford, Ont.

FOR SALE.

A GOOD FARM for sale. Cheap for cash, or will exchange for cattle.
Apply at The Progress Office.

Wanted. I can pay handsome wages
to a clerk of mature age,
refined and tact to spend his time in a good cause. T. H. LINCOLN,
Toronto, Ont.

CATTLE LOST.

FROM Sec. 18, Tp. 19, Range 15, west 2,
on or about the first day of May 1897,
one black year-old heifer, supposed to be branded J S on right side, also a red 2 or 3 year old horse or steer, branded the same way. Any person giving information leading to their recovery will be suitably rewarded. JAMES SMITH, Qu'Appelle
Station. 38-41p

NOTICE.

ANY persons cutting hay on S 18 15, W.
2nd M. will be prosecuted.
J. A. LONGPRE.

FARM FOR SALE.

A FIRST class improved farm—good buildings, plenty of water. Apply to PELL, 28 19 14, Qu'Appelle Station, 39-43p

WANTED Teachers and other bright men for vacation or permanently, to edit
for "Canada: An Encyclopedia of the Country," in five royal quarto volumes. No delivering. Commission paid weekly.
THE LISCOTT COMPANY,
Toronto, Ont.

ASTRAY.

THREE red and white spring calves,
strayed on Sec. 22-20-16. Owner
please pay expenses and take them away.
41-42p J. W. CROWE, Edgley F.O.

AGENTS.

Second edition "Queen Victoria" exhausted. Jubilee edition on press. Best history of the Queen and Victorian era published.
The only Canadian work accepted by Her Majesty. Sales unprecedented—knock the bottom out of all records. Canvassers reaping in money. Even boys and girls sell it fast. Big commission or straight weekly salary after trial trip.
THE BRADLEY-GARRISON CO., Ltd.,
Toronto, Ont.

TEACHERS

If you want to make $150.00 in July and August, in a good cause, write or wire me quickly. T. H. LINCOLN, Toronto, Ont.

A SNAP.

9 VOIS. Chambers' Encyclopedia, 9 vols., 5 vols., Victor
Hugo's works, for sale at a bargain.
Apply at Progress Office.

NOTICE.

STRAYED into my herd, about the middle of May, one brown horse pony,
white hind feet and white strip on face;
branded T C. Owner will please pay expenses and take same away. MRS. M. E.
MATTHEW, Sec. 4-19-15, 38-41p

Qu'Appelle : Progress

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

At the Printing Office, Qu'Appelle Station,
Assa, N. W. T., Canada.

Subscription Price $1 per annum in advance, $1.50 if not so paid.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Business cards as per arrangement according to space.
Transient Ads, such as Legal Notices,
By-Laws, Tenders, Notice of Meetings, etc., 10 cents per line first insertion, and 5 cents
each subsequent insertion, until nonpayment thereof.

Leading notices in local columns 10 cents per line each insertion.

Advertisements of Wages, To Let, Found, Astray, etc., for first insertion, 25c for each subsequent insertion. This class of
ads. must be accompanied by cash to insure publication.

Church, Notice and Society Entertainments from which a revenue is to be derived will be charged for, at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Rates for Commercial, Contract and Permanent advertisements will be furnished on application.

A liberal commission allowed to parties willing to act as agents for us. Write for terms.

T. I. SCOTT,
Editor and Proprietor

THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1897.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

There is now a strong probability that the session of the Assembly,
that was to have been held in August,
will not take place until the amendments to the Northwest Territories Act, passed at Ottawa last session, shall have come into effect.
These amendments do not take effect until Oct. 1st, and as one of the provisions is that the members of the Executive Council, by acceptance of office, vacate their seats,
the Assembly will not be held until after their re-election. This will take not less than three weeks.
We may therefore conclude that the Assembly will not convene before the last week in October.
This will be an inconvenient month
for most members to be absent from their business, and it would have been preferable to have held the session at the time originally expected. There is another objection to a late session. According to the system at present in vogue
in regard to public works, estimates must be submitted and passed by the Assembly before work is authorized. While we are free to admit that this precaution is necessary and a vast improvement
on the old slipshod way of spending government money, yet on account of the late session, works that may be an absolute necessity will be authorized so late that work cannot be commenced before next season.
We trust, however, that this will not be necessary in most cases.

THE CENTRAL FAIR.

We wish to call attention to the fact that the date of the Central exhibition is fast approaching and to ask all interested if they are doing what they can to boost it.
Upon its success this year we have no doubt that the hopes of its promoters will be realized, and that in time it will be as good a drawing card in the Territories as the Winnipeg fair in Manitoba.
The location this year is at Fort Qu'Appelle, one of the prettiest

PAST YOUR PRIME.

Perhaps not in years, but in energy
your youth is not good, yet you hardly know what is the matter with you.
Your business, too, is on the decline.
People now the old elastic agent you showed in former years. The secret of all this is that your constitution is worn out and your blood is bad. Not both right by the use of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. One box will cure you.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-
Liver Pills
Cures
all diseases
of the urinary system
and all diseases
of the blood.
It
is the best remedy
for all diseases
of the urinary system
and all diseases
of the blood.
It
is
the best remedy
for all diseases
of the urinary system
and all diseases
of the blood.

Thousands of sufferers have publicly testified to the efficacy of Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They are the best, as we use the best. One pill a dose, one dollar a box. 25 cents a box.
For sale by all dealers, or by the manufacturer, Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Use Chase's Laxative and Turpentine for all throat and lung troubles. Large bottle, small dose, small price, 25c.

THREE BOYS DROWNED.

A Son of Dr. Gustin and two of
Mr. John Hawkes' Captured
From a Boat

Whitewood, Assa, July 28.—The families of Dr. Gustin and John Hawkes, editor of the Whitewood Herald, have been camping during the past week at Round Lake, a pleasant resort, some fifteen miles north of here. Yesterday morning Roy Gustin, eldest son of the doctor, Harry and Clendon Hawkes, sons of John Hawkes, went out boating on the lake. Not returning at a late hour last night, a search party went to endeavor to find them. This afternoon the party found the boat in which the boys had sailed, turned over, and also the three hats belonging to the boys drifting in the water. It is believed the boys are drowned, and parties are now grappling the lake for the bodies.

Successful Candidates.

The following is a list of successful candidates at the recent territorial elections:
First Class—Joseph H. Gustin, James Ames, William.
Second Class—A. A. Chaswell, Margaret C. Findlay, George, etc.
Third Class—James H. Gustin, J. H. Gustin,
etc.
Fourth Class—James H. Gustin, J. H. Gustin,
etc.
Fifth Class—James H. Gustin, J. H. Gustin,
etc.
Sixth Class—James H. Gustin, J. H. Gustin,
etc.
Seventh Class—James H. Gustin, J. H. Gustin,
etc.
Eighth Class—James H. Gustin, J. H. Gustin,
etc.
Ninth Class—James H. Gustin, J. H. Gustin,
etc.
Tenth Class—James H. Gustin, J. H. Gustin,
etc.

People outside are beginning to notice the possibilities of this becoming a thriving town. The situation is all that can be desired—plenty of wood, good water and fine mixed farming country. What more is wanted? Yes, there is one thing more. It is this, do away with this you-can't-play-on-out-yard policy, reach out and invite capital to come here and in time we will have a good town.

Parties are complaining of the destruction of their gardens by cattle which are allowed to run at large at night. What one month is the use of a herd by law if the same is not enforced? Like many other wise laws, which only seem to be operative at the outset, this law is being neglected in town.
Once we had a cow catcher. What's become of him?

G. H. V. BULYEA, M.L.A. for
this district, is mentioned by several Territorial papers as a strong candidate for the new Executive Commissioner. We hope to see Mr. Bulyea on the Executive, as we believe he will be the right man in the right place, and a credit to the constituency he represents.

A Useful Invention.
Mr. E. E. McDonald, of Mc-Donald Bros., Moose Jaw, arrived at Edgley Farm on Thursday last with one of his new cutting cultivators. On the following day the implement was tried on a field of summerfallow in the presence of a number of the neighboring farmers, who expressed their entire satisfaction at the work done
by Mr. McDonald's new invention, and those present expressed their intention of each purchasing a cultivator at an early date, as no farm
is complete without one. Mr. W.
C. Cameron, manager for Messrs.
Sykes, at once secured the sample cultivator brought by Mr. Mc-Donald, and any person desirous of seeing it at work can now do so at Edgley Farm.

Mr. McDonald has ordered another consignment to be forwarded from Moose Jaw at once, and he will appoint an agent at Qu'- Appelle.

DR. CHASE'S

Catarrh Cure

DR. CHASE'S Catarrh Cure
Cures all diseases
of the urinary system
and all diseases
of the blood.
It
is
the best remedy
for all diseases
of the urinary system
and all diseases
of the blood.

- OF

gious. "The parson school was a money. The farmers went to church. Dissenters there were none. The people of Howick believed thoroughly in their parson, and knew the comfort of having an open-handed, well-to-do gentleman in the village. This third episcopal difficulty did not endure long. Dr. Wortle knew his man, and was willing enough to be on good terms with his bishop so long as he was allowed to be in all things his own master.

There had, too, been some fighting between Dr. Wortle and the world about his school. He was, as I have said, a thoroughly generous man, but he required, himself, to be treated with generosity. Any question as to the charges made by him as schoolmaster was unendurable. He explained to all parents that he charged for each boy at the rate of two hundred a-year for board, lodging, and tuition, and that anything required for a boy's benefit or comfort beyond that ordinarily supplied, would be charged for as an extra at such price as Dr. Wortle himself thought to be an equivalent. Now the popularity of his establishment no doubt depended in a great degree on the sufficiency and comfort of the good things of the world which he put at the disposal of his scholars. The boys were not made to eat fat, their table, the selection of joints was consulted. The morning coffee was excellent. The cooking was a great adept at cakes and puddings. The Doctor would not himself have been satisfied unless everything had been plentiful, and everything of the best. He would have hated a butcher who had attempted to seduce him with meat beneath the usual price. But when he had supplied that which was sufficient according to his own liberal ideas, he did not give more without charging for it. Among his customers there had been a certain Honorable Mr. Stantloup, and,—which had been more important,—an Honorable Mrs. Stantloup. Mrs. Stantloup was a lady who liked all the best things which the world could supply, but hardly liked paying the best price. Dr. Wortle's school was the best thing the world could supply of that kind, but then the price was certainly the very best. Young Stantloup was only eleven; and as there were boys at Howick as old as seventeen,—for the school had not altogether maintained its old character as being merely preparatory—Mrs. Stantloup had thought that her boy should be admitted at a lower fee. The correspondence which had ensued had been unpleasant. The young Stantloup had sent her own doctor, Dr. Champagne, to send order, and carriage expenses. Mr. Stantloup had been forced by his wife to refuse the pay sums demanded for these undutiful extras. Ten shillings a day for a drive for a little boy seemed to her a great deal,—seemed so to Mrs. Stantloup. Ought not the Doctor's wife to have been proud to take her little boy in her own carriage? And then £2, 10s. for champagne for the little boy! It was monstrous. Mr. Stantloup remonstrated. Dr. Wortle said that the little boy had better be taken away and the bill paid at once. The little boy was taken away and the money was offered, short of £5. The matter was instantly put into the hands of the Doctor's lawyer, and a suit commenced. The Doctor, of course, lost his money, and then there followed an acrimonious correspondence in the "Times" and other newspapers. Mrs. Stantloup did her best to ruin the school, and many very eloquent passages were written not only by her or by her own special scribe, but by others who took the matter up to prove that two hundred a year was a great deal more than ought to be paid for the charge of a little boy during three-quarters of the year. But in the course of the next twelve months Dr. Wortle was obliged to refuse admittance to a dozen eligible pupils because he had no room for them. His scholars had suffered during these contests, and that is in my opinion. There had been mountains of which it seemed that the victory would be on the other side, that the forces congregated against him were too many for him, and that not being able to bend he would have to be broken; but in every case he had fought it out, and in every case he had conquered. He was now a prosperous man who had achieved his own way, and had made all those connected with him feel that it was better to like him and obey him, than to dislike him and fight with him. His enemies troubled him as little as possible with the grace of gentleness, and threw off as far as they could that zeal which is so dear to the youthful mind, but which so often seems to be weak and flabby to their elders. His ushers or assistants in the school felt in with his views implicitly and were content to accept compensation in the shape of personal civilities. It was much better to go shares with the Doctor in a joke than to have to hear his loud words.

It is chiefly in reference to one of these ushers that our story has to be told. But before we commence it, we must say a few more words as to the Doctor and his family. Of his wife I have already spoken. She was probably as happy a woman as you shall be likely to meet on a summer's day. She had good health, easy temper, pleasant friends, abundant means, and no ambition. She went nowhere without the Doctor, and whenever he went she enjoyed her share of the respect which he always showed. She had little or no account to do with the school, the Doctor, having many years ago resolved that though it became him as a man to work for his bread, his wife should not be a slave. When the battles had been going on,—those between the Doctor and the bishops, and the Doctor and Mrs. Stantloup, and the Doctor and the newspapers,—she had for a while been unhappy. It had grieved her to have it insinuated that her husband was an atheist, and asserted that her husband was a moribund, but his courage had sustained her, and his continual victories had taught her to believe at last that he was indomitable.

They had one child, a daughter, Mary, of whom it was said to Howick that some one knew the length of the Doctor's skin. It certainly was so that, if Mrs. Wortle wished to have anything done which was a trifle beyond her own influence, she employed Mary. And if the boys collectively wanted to carry a point, they would "collectively" obtain Miss Wortle's aid. But all this the Doctor probably knew very well, and though he was often pleased to grant favors thus asked, he did so because he liked the granting of favors when they had been asked with a proper degree of care and attention. She was at the present time of the age in which fathers are apt to look upon their children as still children, while other men regard them as being grown-up young ladies. It was now June, and in the approaching August she would be eighteen. It was said of her that of the girls all round she was the prettiest; and indeed it would be hard to find a sweeter-favored girl than Mary Wortle. Her father had been all his life a man noted for the manhood of his face. He had a broad forehead, with bright grey eyes,—eyes that had always a smile passing round them, though the smile would sometimes have that touch of iron which a smile teaching were acknowledged; he was already in orders; and it was declared that Mrs. Peacocke was undoubtedly a lady. Many inquiries were made of her. Many meetings were convened. Many difficulties arose. But at last Mr. and Mrs. Peacocke came to Howick and took up their abode in the school.

All the Doctor's requirements were not at once fulfilled. Mrs. Peacocke's position was easily settled. Mrs. Peacocke who seemed to be a woman possessed of sterling sense and great activity undertook her duties without difficulty. But Mr. Peacocke would not at first consent to act as curate in the parish. He did however after a time consent to perform a portion of the Sunday services. When he first came to Howick he had declared that he would undertake no clerical duty. Education was his profession and to that he meant to devote himself exclusively. Nor for the six or eight months of his sojourn did he go back from this; so that the Doctor may be said even still to have failed in carrying out his purpose. But at last the new schoolmaster appeared in the pulpit of the parish church and preached a sermon.

All that had passed in private conference between the Doctor and his assistant on the subject need not here be related. Mr. Peacocke's aversion to do more than attend regularly at the church services as one of the parishioners had been very strong. The Doctor's anxiety to overcome his assistant's reasoning had also been strong. There had, no doubt, been much said between them. Mr. Peacocke had been true to his principles whatever those principles were. In regard to his appointment as a curate,—but it came to pass that he for some months preached regularly every Sunday in the parish church, to the full satisfaction of the parishioners. For this he accepted no payment, much to the Doctor's dissatisfaction. For his refusal it was certainly the case that they who served the Doctor gratuitously never came by the worse of the bargain.

Mr. Peacocke was a small very-looking man, anything but robust in appearance, but still capable of great bodily exertion. He was a great walker. Labor in the school never seemed to fatigue him. The addition of a sermon to preach every week seemed to make no difference to his energies in the school. He was a constant reader, and could pass from one kind of mental work to another without fatigue. The Doctor was a noted scholar, but it soon became manifest to the Doctor himself, and to the boys, that Mr. Peacocke was much deeper in scholarship than the Doctor. Though he was a poor man, his own small classical library was supposed to be a repository of all that was known about Latin and Greek. In fact Mr. Peacocke grew to be a marvel; but of all the marvels about him, the thing most marvelous was the entire faith which the Doctor placed in him. Certain changes even were made in the old-established "curriculum" of instruction,—and were made, and the boys supported by Mr. Peacocke. Mr. Peacocke and Mr. Peacocke was treated with a personal respect which almost seemed to imply that two men were equal. This was supposed by the boys to come from the fact that both the Doctor and the assistant had been fellows of their colleges at Oxford, but the persons and other gentry around could see that there was more in it than that. Mr. Peacocke had some power about him which was potent over the Doctor's spirit.

Mrs. Peacocke, in her time, succeeded almost as well. She was a woman something over thirty years of age when she first came to Howick in the very pride and bloom of woman's beauty. Her complexion was dark and lustrous,—so much so, that it was impossible to describe her color generally by any other word. But no clearer skin was ever given to a woman. Her eyes were brown, and her eyebrows black, and perfectly regular. Her hair was dark and very glossy, and always dressed as simply as the nature of woman's head will allow. Her features were regular, but with a great show of strength. She was tall for a woman, but without any of that look of length under which female altitude sometimes suffers. She was strong and well made, and apparently equal to any labor to which her position might subject her. When she had been at Howick about five months, a boy's leg had been broken, and she had nursed him not only with assiduity, but with great sympathy. The boy was the youngest son of Mrs. Peacocke, a boy of about twelve years of age. A few months after, when Lady Altramont paid a second visit to Howick, for the sake of taking her boy home, as soon as he was fit to be moved, her ladyship made a little mistake. With the sweetest and most interesting smile in the world, she offered Mrs. Peacocke a hundred pound note. "My dear madam," said Mrs. Peacocke, "with all the slightest reserve or diffidence," "it is no matter that you should do this, because you cannot of course understand my position; but it is altogether out of the question." The Marchioness looked, a moment, and began to be a hundred pounds. "But a good-natured woman," she told the schoolmaster, "Mr. Peacocke. I would just as soon have offered the money to the Marchioness herself," said Mrs. Peacocke, as she told it to her husband. "I would have done it a dozen times," said the Doctor. "I am not in the least afraid of Lady Altramont; but I stand in awful dread of Mrs. Peacocke." Never before Mrs. Peacocke had done her money by the little lord's bedside, just as though she had been a paid nurse.

And so she felt herself to be. Nor was she in the least ashamed of her position in that respect. If there was aught of shame about her, as some people said, it certainly did not come from the fact that she was in the receipt of a salary for the performance of certain prescribed duties. Such remuneration was, she thought, as honorable as the De-Rue's income; but her American Intelligencer, the acceptance of a present of money from a Marchioness would have been a degradation.

It certainly was said of her by some persons that there must have been something in her former life of which she was ashamed. The Honorable Mrs. Stanthorpe, to whom all the affairs of Howick had been of consequence since her husband had lost his baronet, and who had not only heard much, but had inquired far and near about Mr. and Mrs. Peacocke, declared indignantly among her friends, with many oaths and winks, that there was something rotten in the state of Denmark." She said at first somewhat independently and without to spread a rumor abroad that Mrs. Peacocke had become entangled by the way a howick could not even these hostile to howick could not even these hostile to howick certainly was not the matter, but in propriety the respect of the society, and his own standing for the beauty of our woman, and, moreover, the Doctor, as we have said before, was over fifty years of age. But here soon came up another ground on which calumny could found a story. It was certainly the case that Mrs. Peacocke had never accepted any hospitality from Mrs. Worsle or other ladies in the neighborhood. It reached the ears of Mrs. Stanthorpe, first, that the ladies had called upon each other, as ladies are wont to do, and intend to cultivate a mutual personal of her, aroused a genuine emotion almost unknown to the girl. But nothing of this kind happened. Little Jack de Laetie was put back in one of the rectory bedrooms, and was comforted with sherry, oranges, and sweet jelly. For two days, he lay motionless in his bed, and, although he seemed thoroughly in his accident, being able to move his limbs, and subjected only to minor aches. After that he rebelled, having become tired of his bed. But by that time his mother had been most strenuously summoned. Unless she was wanted to maintain the former condition of his clothes, there was nothing that she could do. But she came and, of course, showed a blossoming on Mr. Powecki's head. While Mrs. Wurtie went through to the hall and showered blessings on Mrs. Powecki. What would they have done had the muscokos not been there?

"You must let them to know their way, whether for good or bad," the Doctor said, when his assistant complained rather of the blessings,—pointing out at any rate their absurdity. "One man is destined never, because, in the conventional expression of his authority, he gives a little by way which happens to make a small, temporary mark on his skin. Another becomes a hero because, when in the special circumstances performance of a duty, he does himself a disfigurement. I won't think of a hero. But, of course, I consider myself very fortunate to have had beside me a muscokos stronger than myself, and saved me from such an emergency. Of course I feel grateful, but I shan't bother by telling you so."

That this was not the end of it, Lady Laetie declared that she would not be angry unless Mr. and Mrs. Powecki would give Jack home for the holidays to De Laetie Park. Of course she carried her sayings up into Mr. Powecki's little sitting room, and became quite conversant, as was Mrs. Wurtie, that Mrs. Powecki was in all respects a lady. She found Mr. Powecki's antecedents at a glance, and expressed her opinion, that they were alarming people. She could not be happy unless they would promise to come to De Laetie Park for the holidays. Then Mrs. Muscokos had to explain that in her present circumstances she did not intend to visit anywhere. She was very much fatigued, and delighted to think that the day the boy was home the worse for his accident; but there must be an end to it. There was something in her manner, as she said this, which almost convinced Lady Laetie. She made herself, at any rate, understood, and no further attempt was made for the next six weeks to induce Mr. Powecki to enter the rectory dining room. But a good deal was said about Mr. Powecki,—generally in his favor.

Generally in his favor,—because he was a fine scholar, and could enter his. His mother, being perhaps did something for him, at the rectory did more. But though there was so much said of good, there was nothing also of evil. A man would not be together refuse society for himself and a wife unless there were some cause for it to do so. He and she must have shown themselves to be unfit to associate with such persons as they would have met at De Laetie Park. There was no doubt a mystery, and the mystery, when solved, would no doubt prove to be very damaging to the character of the persons concerned. Mrs. Stantings was quite sure at such point to be made. "It might be very well," said Mrs. Stantings, "for Wurtie to obtain the services of a well-qualified sister for his school, but it is no more than to say that, when not put up as up-to-date in the church, of whom is for five years, no one knew anything." He had had told her something so as to satisfy of a husband's authority for a perfectly defined to her what a creature she was, however, quite ready to declare that Mr. Powecki had no business to be such in that point, and that something very disagreeable would come of it. Was this feeling altogether confirmed in Mrs. Stantings, though it had perhaps originated with what she had said among her own friends. "Don't you think it would be a good thing if he had something of his life in the rectory for the holidays? This had been said to the Doctor by the Bishop himself, to probably would have said nothing of kind had not these reports reached him. Her reports, when they reach a certain significance, and about a certain instance, must be noted.

As much in this world depends upon what, that attention has to be paid to a character even when it is not directly dealing with men and women, as well as when we consider ourselves. The utility of persons depends much on the idea that confidence has of the party of the man to proceed it. Through the results of should never have come with greater ease from the mouth of man, they will be in vain. If they be returned by one who is known as a traitor of the Government,—they will come in with from the mouth of one who is even suspected to be so. To all this, when it was said to him the Bishop in the kind manner, the Doctor replied that such suspicions were unfounded, unreasonable, and uncharitable. He declared that they originated in that characteristic thing, Mrs. Stantings. "Look round the House," said the Bishop in reply to this, "and see if you find a single character more than in the details of whose life for the last five years you know absolutely nothing."—Nevertheless the Doctor said that he would like to know of Mr. Powecki himself, might well be, he thought, that Mrs. Muscokos would not like such reports. The Doctor was quite sure that they told to him would be true.

It is interesting, however, found it necessary, or of any value, to give to persons a good reason for a few days. It is not easy to see a man who has been doing with years of his life, from the position of a friend that he has been here in a good heart. And it was intended at the questioning, but in a way with the man's wife. The Doctor told Mrs. Stantings that he should be glad to find of Mrs. Muscokos. There had been many more upon him, and also that she was a wife with whom it would not be to be possible. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.

It was not, for instance, very common to see a husband of a woman, and would not be, but it is necessary to be a good deal of a woman. The fact is, in the rectory and other circumstances with Mr. Powecki, it was found that he was a wife with whom it was not possible to be a friend. He was cheerful, friendly, and extremely pleasant to see with of the was expressed in his regard to the fact that it had been mentioned to the fact that in all matters beyond the fact of his judgment, and was by means subject to external influences.</

Sweet Caporal

Cigarettes, Standard of the World.

KINNEY BROS.,
New York.

Qu'Appelle Observatory.

Reading of the thermometer for the week ending Tuesday, July 26, 1897.

	Maximum.	Minimum.
Wednesday, July 21	70	47
Thursday, July 22	74	52
Friday, July 23	72	51
Saturday, July 24	83	55
Sunday, July 25	72	54
Monday, July 26	75	42
Tuesday, July 27	88	50

July 27.—Barometer reduced to sea level, 29.646.

Local and General

—“The Mystery of Mr. and Mrs. Peacock.”

—Several cases of measles are reported in town.

—The family of Mr. J. Bird arrived from Grenfell Sunday.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Doolittle and family are camping at the lakes.

—We regret to hear that Mrs. Thos. Hillard, of the Queen's hotel, is seriously ill.

—Mrs. P. Graham and children left on Tuesday evening for Portage la Prairie.

—Messrs. J. Wheeler, W. Powley, sen., and Wel Powley, leave today for the Souris.

—Charges of partisanship against the Regina postmaster are now under investigation.

—An elevator is to be erected here this summer by the Lake of the Woods company.

—It is rumored that another large general store is to be opened here within a month or two.

—Any person cutting hay on section 8-18 15, W. 2nd M, will be prosecuted, J. A. Longpre.

—Two tons and a half of Qu'Appelle creamery butter will be shipped to the Old Country tomorrow.

—Mr. J. Lidgate has purchased two lots near St. Peter's parsonage and intends building as soon as possible.

—In this issue—“The Mystery of Mr. and Mrs. Peacock.”

—Mrs. S. Scott and children left on Tuesday on a visit to friends and relatives in Winnipeg and North Dakota.

—Mrs. Wyatt of St. Thomas, Ont., accompanied by her daughter, is visiting her son, Mr. W. J. Wyatt, of Qu'Appelle.

—Our town wells need looking after. Some of them are in a bad state and may be a source of danger to public health.

—Mrs. C. F. Travis of Elkhorn, and children, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Broley. Mr. Travis is expected up on Sunday.

—A large consignment of cattle was shipped through from Moose Jaw to Winnipeg on Monday night by Mr. R. Johnston, our energetic cattle buyer.

—The conclusion of a series of games, played for a football offered by W. C. Cameron, for the winners, took place a week ago Wednesday between Edgeley and Vernon clubs, Edgeley winning the ball.

—Mr. J. H. Cowan's little child was taken ill with measles in Winnipeg, also Mrs. W. Johnston's little daughter, which necessitates their delay in returning home.

—Mr. T. W. Brady, of Winnipeg, and Messrs. Love & Tryon, of Grenfell, have entered into partnership as grain merchants, under the name of Brady, Love & Tryon.

—Creamer & Gray (McCormick), have disposed of all their mowers and have ordered another consignment. They expect to do a big business in binders also this year.

—Messrs. Byrne & Fetherstonhaugh, the only licensed liverymen in Qu'Appelle, run a daily stage between Qu'Appelle Station and Fort Qu'Appelle upon arrival of morning train and to suit convenience of passengers. They also handle Dominion express matter.

This popular firm has long held the reputation of having everything first class and has earned the confidence of the travelling public.

—The polo club are getting into shape for the Central exhibition. It will not be their fault if they do not bring back something in the shape of prizes.

—The members of the Fort Polo team, returned this morning from Winnipeg exhibition flushed with victory, having defeated their opponents in the polo match 4 to 0.

—Mr. A. W. R. Markley of Calgary, general agent of the Confederation Life Association for the N. W.T., stopped off here Tuesday, on returning from the Winnipeg fair.

—Messrs. Heubach, D. H. McDonald, M.L.A., R. Williams, J. A. McDonald and several others of Fort Qu'Appelle, arrived from the Winnipeg exhibition yesterday.

—We are in receipt of a fine sample of potatoes from the garden of Mr. John Grieve, also a magnificent bunch of radishes from the garden of Mr. Harry Mitchell, market gardener.

—Isaac Jansen & Moses Hippstein, two Israelites, have started a junk shop in town. They also repair watches and machinery, loan money on diamonds, buy cattle, trade horses or saw wood as occasion requires.

—In the polo pony race at Winnipeg on Saturday, Fredale's Hazel, Fort Qu'Appelle, was 1st, Fetherstonhaugh's Clown a good 2d. Eveline, owned by J. Hastings, Indian Head, ran 2d in the mile handicap, being beaten by Sherburn Sands.

—A letter from Mr. C. Podham, who is working on the Soo line, informs us that he was run into by a freight on the 10th inst. while working a hand car. Fortunately he escaped injury, but a trunk containing provisions and clothes was smashed to smithereens.

DR. CHASE CURES BACKACHE.
Kidney trouble generally begins with a single pain in the back, and in time develops into Bright's disease. People troubled with stricture, impediments, stoppage of water, or a frequent desire to urinate at night, will find Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills a blessing. Read the wonderful cures in another column. One pill is a dose, and if taken every other night will positively cure kidney trouble.

—Mr. William Scott, of Oak River, arrived here Sunday on a short visit to his sister-in-law, Mrs. James Scott. Mr. Scott is pleased with the crop prospects this year and says though light in some places there will be a good general yield, and what is better, he says, prices will be good.

—Conductor Sam McMicken, of the C.P.R., was taken ill on the line yesterday and on the arrival of his train here medical aid was summoned. He was found to be in a high fever and suffering from bowel trouble, indicating inflammation, but was able to proceed to the end of his trip at Moose Jaw.

THE LIFE OF DR. CHASE.
As a compiler of Chase's Recipe Book, his name is familiar in every household in the land, while as a physician his works on simple formulas left an imprint of his name that will be handed down from generation to generation. His last great medicine, in the form of his syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, is having the large public patronage that his Ointment, Pills and Catarrh cure are having. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is especially adapted for all Bronchial and Asthmatic troubles.

—Please note the date on label of your paper. If your subscription expires this month notify us at an early date whether you wish to renew, enclosing $1. We do not wish to erase your name from our list knowing that you can not afford to do without your home paper, but we cannot supply it for nothing.

—Mr. Harry O'Connor, of the C.P.R., has returned from a western trip as far as Moose Jaw and south to Estevan. Speaking of the crop prospects in the districts through which he travelled, Mr. O'Connor stated that in some places there will be a light crop, but on the whole there should be a 25 or 30

Awarded Highest Honors—World's Fair, Gold Medal, Midwinter Fair.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER
A Pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder.
40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

A Prominent City Official

Thinks as Highly of Paine's Celery Compound as he Did
Years Ago.

Mr. J. T. Dillon, Chairman of the Board of Assessors of the city of Montreal, is one of the best known and most popular citizens of the great metropolis.

As Mr. Dillon has some years ago given public testimony regarding the life-giving virtues of Paine's Celery Compound, he was recently asked if his opinions had in any way changed as far as the value of the great curing medicine was concerned.

Mr. Dillon's reply was prompt, and his statement as strong as words could make it. His brief letter reads as follows:

"I am in receipt of your valued favor, and would say that I most cheerfully testify again to the worth, value and merits of Paine's Celery Compound.
"I am never without a bottle of it in my possession, and I partake of it daily. This I have been in the habit of doing for some seven years, and can affirm that, judging from experience, it is a most wonderful nerve restorer and tonic. Hardly a day passes by me that I am not asked the question, 'What do you do to yourself to preserve your youthful appearance?' My reply is, 'I take Paine's Celery Compound.'" bushel per acre yield. Around Indian Head and Qu'Appelle the grain is magnificent, but in the country west of Melita Mr. O'Connor saw the finest farm of wheat he ever came across. The owner's name was Mr. McIntosh, and the wheat stood five feet high and well headed out.—Free Press.

—District Engineer Thompson leaves to-day for the Fort and from there proceeds to the eastern part of his district, to inspect works under way. Mr. Thompson and his assistant, Mr. E. C. Boyce, have the hands full, as the requirements for East Assinibola are about double that of any other district in the Territories.

Poplar Plains.

Our annual picnic held last Friday was a complete success, upwards of 175 gathering from far and near to enjoy a pleasant afternoon. All kinds of sports were participated in. There was a grand display of good things—more than enough for all. Dancing was enjoyed by a large crowd from 9 o'clock to 12, after which the Irish letter was read and closed the ball with rousing cheers.

Crops in our district are good and quite a number are expecting thirty to forty bushels per acre.

I wonder who bought lemonade, hot, 82 in the shade, at Poplar Plains, 20 for a quarter?

Quite a number of hands are wanted to take off the crop.

Haying is in full swing.

Old Foggy and Short-sighted Merchants.

The manufacturers of Diamond Dyes receive letter orders every day from country places for Diamond Dyes. Ladies say their village storekeeper has been talked into buying one of the very inferior makes put up to outwardly imitate the world-famed Diamond Dyes. They have tried these dyes, and the result was failure and loss of goods.

These country storekeepers (many of them) will not put in a stock of Diamond Dyes until they get rid of their poor goods. This means loss of trade to the short-sighted dealer. Diamond Dyes are certainly the favorites in country, town and city, and all wise merchants sell them.

Any lady in the country who cannot obtain Diamond Dyes from her dealer can write to Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, for the color required, stating whether it is to dye wool, cotton or silk, and the dyes will be sent by mail.

Spencerville Splashes.

(From our own correspondent.)

On the closing day of Starr's Point school an examination was held, which was attended by quite a number of the ratepayers, who were pleased to note the rapid progress the pupils had made since Jan. 1st, thereby reflecting much credit on their painstaking teacher. The trustees are also to be commended for the good judgment they have shown in engaging a second-class teacher even for so small a school.

The many friends and escorts of our teacher will be pleased to hear that she has arrived safely at her old home in Oshawa after a fairly pleasant trip, and appears to be now enjoying herself thoroughly, though not in the woolly western fashion.

A colt belonging to Mr. Cates slipped into an old well containing some twenty feet of water the other day, and by paddling around kept itself afloat for about fifteen minutes, when assistance arrived. It was

MRS. BUYER.

We invite your inspection of our stock of

Prints, Muslins,
Cottons, Cretonnes,
Ginghams and Dress Goods,

Cotton Hose from 10c. a pair upwards. A large stock of Ladies' Vests at Right prices. Give us a call and see for yourself.

J. P. BEAUCHAMP,
QU'APPELLE STATION.

Farmers!

Will please note that our entering the Binding Ties business with the very superior brands, "Red and Blue Cross Safety Ties," has greatly reduced the price, and we think we are entitled to a share of the business in consequence. Call and see our samples and have a look at our Ties, Socks and T. & S. Flooring at 820, and our 813 Shoring Lumber. These are the best grades at the money cost of Brandon.

Blacksmith's Coal and Brick storage in stock.

MacCAUL & HARVEY,
QU'APPELLE STATION, Assa.

Established 1877. CAPITAL, $250,000 Incorporated June 16, 1893.
Jas. McMillan & Co.
DEALERS IN
HIDES, PELTS, FURS, WOOL, TALLOW, GINSENG AND SENEGA.
MINNEAPOLIS
SHEEPSKIN TANNERY
AND
TWIN CITY
TALLOW WORKS.
REPORTED BY
FINE NORTHERN FURS
REFERENCES BY PERMISSION:
Security Bank of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn. Peoples Bank, Minneapolis, Minn.
First National Bank, Minneapolis, Minn. Bank of America, Minneapolis, Minn.
MAIN HOUSE, 200 TO 212 FIRST AVENUE NORTH, MINNEAPOLIS, MINNESOTA.

SPRING, 1897

Our New Spring Samples RECEIVED.

The very Latest Patterns in English, Scotch and Irish Suitings, Trousers and Overcoatings. Kindly call and examine them, whether you wish to order or not.

J. H. BRETHAUER & CO.
Qu'Appelle Station, agents for the Celebrated Dominion Pants Company.

taken out apparently none the worse for its adventure.

The school picnic has been postponed until the first Monday in September, when a grand program of sports and other gymnastics will likely be carried out under the management of Mr. Harby.

Miss Maud Hardy has been spending a few days at Mt. Prospect, the guest of Miss Ethel McMichael.

Subscribe
at once and get the opening chapters of "The Mystery of Mr. and Mrs. Peacock," a new serial started in this issue.

S. H. COLLINS,
Boot and Shoe Maker
Qu'Appelle Street,
QU'APPELLE STATION, ASSA.
Repairs done on short notice.

Merchant Tailors

IF YOU WANT A GOOD FITTING SUIT OF CLOTHES, CALL ON...
J. H. Brethauer & Co.
Who have got
THE BEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE
Samples on the market.
Prices Right. Give Us a Call.

FARM LANDS FOR SALE.

The North-West Lands of the Estate of the late W. R. THISTLE, comprising

4,000 ACRES

Of Valuable Improved

FARM PROPERTY

ARE NOW OFFERED FOR SALE ON

Most Reasonable Terms.

For full particulars apply to

A. D. DICKSON,
BARRISTER,
QU'APPELLE

C. BABBIT, AGENT FOR

NEW SINGER VIBRATOR SEWING MACHINES.

Sewing Machine and Gun Oil. Watchmaker and Jeweller. Sewing Machines and Guns Repaired on shortest notice. Qu'Appelle Station and Indian Head, Assa.

PATENTS PROMPTLY SECURED
We are standing for our clients' best interests in securing patents for inventions in all countries. We have a Washington office. Patents taken through Munn & Co. Agents special notice to the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN,
best-selling illustrated, largest circulation of any scientific journal, week & month. Send for a free sample. Address
MUNN & CO.,
361 Broadway, New York.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

DIRECT RAIL ROUTE TO Montreal, Toronto

And All Eastern Ports.

Lake Route to the East

Sailings from Fort William

ALBERTA, Every Tuesday to Windsor

ATLANTIC, Every Thursday to Owen Sound

SENIOR, Every Sunday to Owen Sound

Connecting trains from Qu'Appelle at 10:30

Sunday, Tuesday and Friday.

Daily and direct service to

Kaslo, Nelson, Sandon

And all points in the far West

KOOTENAY

Silvery Slocan.

TO CHINA AND JAPAN

From Vancouver

Empress of India, Every Tuesday to Hong Kong

Empress of China, Every Thursday to Hong Kong

To Honolulu, Australia, New Zealand

From Vancouver

Minister, Every Sunday to Hong Kong

Apply for particulars to

W. L. WALK, Agent, Qu'Appelle, Assa.

Qu'Appelle Station, Winnipeg

Ocean Steamships.

ROYAL MAIL LINES.

Ships and general trade to the West Coast.

From New York

London, Every Tuesday to London

London, Every Thursday to London

London, Every Saturday to London

London, Every Sunday to London

London, Every Monday to London

London, Every Tuesday to London

London, Every Wednesday to London

London, Every Thursday to London

London, Every Friday to London

London, Every Saturday to London

London, Every Sunday to London

London, Every Monday to London

London, Every Tuesday to London

London, Every Wednesday to London

London, Every Thursday to London

London, Every Friday to London

London, Every Saturday to London

London, Every Sunday to London

London, Every Monday to London

London, Every Tuesday to London

London, Every Wednesday to London

London, Every Thursday to London

London, Every Friday to London

London, Every Saturday to London

London, Every Sunday to London

London, Every Monday to London

London, Every Tuesday to London

London, Every Wednesday to London

London, Every Thursday to London

London, Every Friday to London

London, Every Saturday to London

London, Every Sunday to London

London, Every Monday to London

London, Every Tuesday to London

London, Every Wednesday to London

London, Every Thursday to London

London, Every Friday to London

London, Every Saturday to London

London, Every Sunday to London

London, Every Monday to London

London, Every Tuesday to London

London, Every Wednesday to London

London, Every Thursday to London

London, Every Friday to London

London, Every Saturday to London

London, Every Sunday to London

London, Every Monday to London

London, Every Tuesday to London

London, Every Wednesday to London

London, Every Thursday to London

London, Every Friday to London

London, Every Saturday to London

London, Every Sunday to London